

Wolf Weekend

February 11 & 12, 2012

In The Boreal Forest At

Land of the Loon Resort

in conjunction with Sundogs Excursions

Your invitation.....

Some of the best 'wolf country' in North America lies within and adjacent to Prince Albert National Park and Anglin Lake.

Land of the Loon Resort and Sundogs Excursions welcome internationally renowned Saskatchewan authors and wildlife photographers Rebecca and Glen Grambo. The most recent of their 26 books, 'Wolf: Icon, Enemy, Legend', is a beautiful and thought-provoking exploration of humanity's relationship with these unforgettable animals.

The Grambos along with Bradley Muir of Sundogs are your expert guides and nature interpreters for the weekend.

You'll be introduced to a yard of working sled dogs during the 'Puppy Camp'. It's a 'behind the tails' look and hands-on experience with the domestic cousins of the wolf. If you choose, you can enjoy an excursion by dogsled!

- * guided snowshoe hike in search of wildlife tracks and signs
- * excursion by dog sled
- * indoor, evening presentation featuring 'Wolf: Icon, Enemy, Legend'
- * 'Wolf Theme' family-style supper (With menu choices for non-carnivores too!)
- * nighttime 'wolf howl' program *Sunday Brunch with nature photography tips
- * a log cabin by the lake - accommodations at Land of the Loon Resort
- * relaxing silence of the winter forest
